

Tenth Bonn Applied English Linguistics Conference (BAELc10)

- 10th Anniversary Edition: Applied Linguistics –

Poster sessions

Thursday, 10 June 2021, 16:30 – 17:00
Buket Akyürek	A contrastive study of politeness theories: Compliment responses of Japanese EFL learners and German EFL learners
Sandra Della Corte	“Das ist Schwachsinn!”: How German speakers criticize
Rebecca Freundel	Learning the pragmatics of a foreign language: Politeness realization in requests of German learners of English through institutional instruction
Kanisa Kongsantad	Native and non-native speakers of German: The case of apology
Adel Mukhametshina	“Dankeschön – Bitte sehr”: Responses to thanks in German German and Austrian German
Sabra, Reem	Cross-cultural pragmatics: Request strategies by Egyptian learners of German and native speakers of German
Frederic Schüller	“Das kommt unerwartet, aber vielen Dank!”: Power and social distance in German compliment responses
Louise Trocmé	Disagreement strategies of German and French speakers of English: A contrastive pragmatic study
Ahmet Kagan Yildirim	Compliments on the road among cyclists (German and Turkish L2 speakers of English)

Friday, 11 June 2021, 15:15 – 15:45
Steve Amoo	Cross-linguistic digital customer complaint realization on Twitter: The example of complaints to McFit
Sebastian Busch	“I suggest you vote for me”: Gender differences in making suggestions during a US-American presidential debate
Wissal Fella	Making and responding to complaints in German university context
Badia Ghanem	“Five and five”: Compliment responses in Moroccan Arabic
Johanna Harms	Impoliteness among high school students: A gender-based analysis of the American drama 13 Reasons Why
Valentina Lombardo	“Ja, kein Problem”: Gender variation in German responses to thanks
Sarina Ohm	How does it feel to be beautiful? Responding to compliments in American English
Ladan Raeisian	A gender-based contrastive study of compliment responses among German students
Lea Rostock	Responding to thanks in Germany: A variational pragmatic approach to differences and similarities in Bonn and Braunschweig

Saturday, 12 June 2021, 13:30 – 14:00
Ahnesa Dzyamulych	"I am glad that you liked it": Thanks responses in German and Ukrainian
Nathan Harman	"I'm sorry, what was it you said?": A comparative study of verbal non-understanding indicators used in the UK and Germany
Lisa Lubomierski	"Du bist falsch": Insults on German and British reality TV
Volodymyr Matiash	"Thanks! You also look very good!": Compliment responses in Ukrainian and German
Muireann O'Brien	"Of course, no bother! The overdraft is handy, too handy sometimes!": A contrastive analysis of Irish English and German responses to requests
Svetlana Popova	A contrastive study of compliment responses among Russian and German university students
Eva Yovitha Sinurat	"Ok, ich fasse das mal als Kompliment auf"/"Ok, I will take that as a compliment": Contrastive analysis of compliment responses by British native speakers and German native speakers
Romina Tönges	"Just keep walking": A mixed method study on response strategies of women to male catcalling